Home Office

A flexible solution for all parties...

Telecommuting offers many advantages - both for employees and for companies that offer it. Working hours are considerably more flexible and it allows employees to continue to perform their job even if they are unable to be onsite at their office. It is simultaneously easier to make an extra effort, because the work can be adapted to the family and performed at the times that fit best. This gives increased motivation and higher job satisfaction. Keyloop can offer retailers and their staff connections, so they are able to work from home. This is done through a VPN (Virtual Private Network) so that communications are safe from intruders. Telecommuting may both customers with their own servers and those using ASP.

New HomeOffice concept

For better support of HomeOffice on Windows 7, 8, 8.1 and 10. Keyloop has launched a new HomeOffice concept, based on Cisco AnyConnect.

You now have automatic access to the Internet when using the Keyloop HomeOffice solution and it works as soon as you have installed the Keyloop VPN Client.

Installation:

To install the necessary components to get the HomeOffice to work, you must now review the relevant points in the section Installation of the left side menu.
